

A. C. TURNER
... He's "Al" to most; and a good neighbor to all.

A Feature Dedicated To Good Neighboring

Editor's Note: Herewith is the first of a series of typewriter sketches of your Torrance neighbors. From time to time as space and circumstances allow, there will be others.

Meet A. C. "Al" Turner, a typical American neighbor. He lives in a typical Torrance home, and has for 23 years, at 1008 Acacia street. When his daily work as route superintendent at the Mayfair Creamery is finished each day, "Al" comes home to be met by his Canadian-born wife—Betty, and until this fall, two sons, Dick and Jack. Both are now attending UCLA. Jack, at six-foot two-inches, captained the Torrance High School Varsity basketball team in 1948. Little brother, Dick, at six-foot one-inch, was co-captain of the Tar-tar Varsity Football team in 1948. He has since earned a freshman letter at UCLA.

"Al's" active participation in boys club activities, the YMCA in particular, doesn't leave him much time for gardening, woodturning, or other hobbies. He is vice-president of the Board of Managers of the YMCA and a member of the Metropolitan Camp Branch Board of Los Angeles.

Sundays find the Turners attending services at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church of which he is a member of the vestry.

He's seldom home on Wednesday night. That's the meeting night of the Optimist Club. He is a charter member.

Bent toward conservation, "Al" allows himself few luxuries—namely, ice cream sundries, malted milks, and pie-a-lode—with two scoops.

Grand Jury List Contained Names Of 3 Known Here

Two local men and the wife of a theater owner here, were among the 120 candidates submitted for duty on the Los Angeles County Grand Jury for 1950.

Nominated for jury duty but eventually eliminated from the list were:

Lew W. Parrish, 1919 Andree avenue, assistant director of public relations, Joint Council of Teamsters;

Lawrence Harvey, vice-president of the Harvey Machine Company, and;

Mrs. Albert Mellinkoff, wife of the co-owner of the Stadium, Grand, and Torrance Theaters in Torrance.

The name of Mrs. Mellinkoff was eliminated from the list along with two others before the drawing of the names of 30 finalists. The action was challenged by a superior court judge. Reason for withdrawing Mrs. Mellinkoff's name was said to be that the prospective jurors might be unsympathetic to organized labor.

Parrish and Harvey were eliminated from serving when their names were not among the 30 finalists drawn from the adjusted pool of 117.

Live Shell Turns Up In Rubbish

The rubbish buriers at Green's Hog Ranch are handling Torrance rubbish delicately these days since they discovered a live three-inch artillery shell in the rubbish there Sunday. They gingerly delivered the shell to the police, who, in turn, as gingerly watched it until Fort McArthur ordnance men picked it up. No, no one questioned knows how it got in the rubbish. Do you?

Fender Skirts Stolen From Parked Car

Two green fender skirts were stolen from his car parked at his home Saturday night, Lewis Harger, 2355 Torrance boulevard, told police.

Jerusalem Official Views Columbia Plant

Dep. Mayor Reuven Shreimman of Jerusalem was a guest in Torrance yesterday. He was escorted through the Columbia Steel plant here by General Superintendent O. A. Kresse.

Dep. Mayor Shreimman is visiting California in the drive to raise funds for aiding the settlement of Jews in his country.

FIRST PARKING METERS

Newark (SF)—Parking meters were first installed in American cities in 1935, when six municipalities put them in use.

INFORMAL CONCERT PLANNED

The Torrance Area Youth Bands will present an informal concert in the Torrance Civic Auditorium next Tuesday night, February 14, at 8 p.m. The Intermediate Band will play the first part of the program and the Junior Band will play the last half. Soloists for the program will include Dan Buckley, saxophonist, Floyd French, clarinetist, and Diane Mitchell and Judith Hurst, flutists. Immediately following the concert the Youth Band sponsored All Girls Baton Corps, directed by Beverly Moore, will perform. The entire program is open to the public without charge.

It's a Granddaughter For the H. W. Creegers

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Creeger of Long Beach this week became grandparents for the third time when their daughter, Mrs. Margery Chatfield, gave birth to a baby girl, Christine, Monday at Long Beach Naval Hospital. The grandfather is plant manager of American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation.

The Creegers' daughter is the wife of Major S. E. Chatfield, operations officer at Clark Field, Manila, P. I., with the 44th Fighter Squadron. With the new baby and her two sons, 4 and 2, Mrs. Chatfield presently will join her husband in Manila.
